

Don't Lose Money on Your FSA!

Just a quick reminder that as of February 25, 2019, you have funds remaining in your 2018 healthcare and/or dependent flexible spending account (FSA). Since the funds don't roll over, you must file any eligible expenses from 2018 so you don't forfeit them as per IRS rules. The filing deadline is March 31, 2019, for expenses incurred between January 1 - December 31, 2018. Here's what you need to know:

Your Account Balance

Login to your ASIFlex account to view your balance and account activity. See the Online Access/Account detail tab on the ASIFlex website.

Eligible Expenses

There are a wide range of healthcare and/or dependent care products and services eligible for reimbursement from your FSA. View the list of eligible expenses.

Required Documentation

The IRS may require appropriate documentation when submitting an FSA claim. View the list of documentation requirements.

Submit a Claim

ASIFlex accepts claims via their website, mobile app, fax or mail. See the Online Access/Account detail tab on the ASIFlex website.

Tips for Using Your FSA

ASIFlex Mobile App

Do you have the app? Snap a photo of your documentation to submit your claim, right from your phone or tablet. Available for Apple and Android, just search for ASIFlex Self Service in your app store.
